

TAKUYA MATSUURA

Berlin-based artist exploring sound, light, photography,
and systems of archival transformation.

Recipient of the 2016 New Cosmos of Photography Excellence Award.

In contemporary art, works are no longer confined to a single medium. They are generated across multiple technologies and layers of information. Photography is no exception. Is a digitally processed image still a photograph, or is it CG? When an image is projected onto a screen, does it remain a still image, or does it become a moving one? Is a photograph only valid when printed on paper? Today, photography lacks a fixed definition;
